IAN NORRIS BA (Hons) MAFA

Ian Norris has had a great rise to success, capturing local scenes through painting; earning an honorary Bachelor, an MBE and becoming a member of the Manchester Academy in a period of just nine years.

“My process starts by producing numerous drawings and small paintings from observation. Back in the studio I paint larger works from memory using the smaller studies as reference.”

“Throughout this process I am trying to express my feelings of being present in a place and not just the visual aspects of the landscape.”

“I am interested in the physicality of paint itself and my larger paintings tend to be made of multiple layers of paint. The progressive build-up of paint combined with the scraping back of whole or partial areas of the paint surface reveal a complex matrix of varying colour, texture and depth which is not unlike the landscape itself.”

MALCOLM FRYER

Born in Manchester in 1937, Malcolm Fryer studied at both Blackburn and Lancashire Schools of Art before moving to Accrington where he became curator of the Haworth Art Gallery.

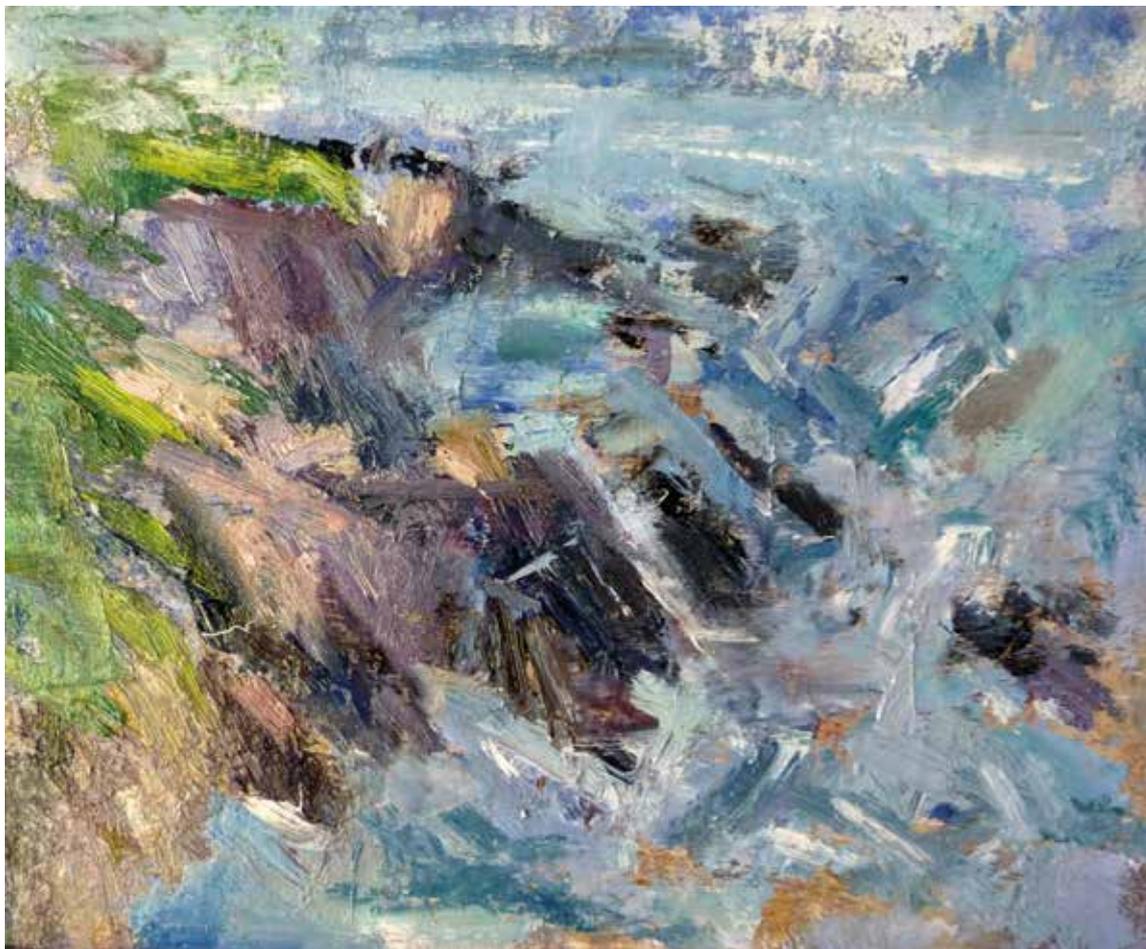

He subsequently moved to Arbroath to become Warden of the Patrick Allen Fraser Art College.

Malcolm continued to develop his own career as a painter and widely exhibited throughout the country.

Gaining the backing of Guinness Ltd aged 25; his first solo exhibition in 1962 was the start of an increasingly successful career.

He has sold works worldwide and is now represented in private and public collections including: The Lakeland Arts Trust, The Atkinson Art Gallery, The Peter Scott Gallery, The Guinness Collection, Liverpool Health Authority, Blackburn & Bolton Civic Galleries and the Universities of Leeds and Liverpool. His work is also featured on the BBC's 'Your Paintings' website.

He has been a well-known member of the British Art community for over 50 years and is listed in the Twentieth Century Painters and Sculptors, Volume VI by Frances Spalding.
